FLORENCE

SEWING MACHINE.

Copy of the Report of the Committee of Awards at the Fair of the

AMERICAN INSTITUTE

NEW YORK, 1865.

To the FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE CO. for the Best Family Sewing Machine, Highest Premium! Gold Medal!

REASONS:

1st.—Its simplicity and great range of work.
2d.—The Reversible Feed Motion.
3d.—The perfect finish and substantial manner in which the Machine is made.
4th.—The rapidity of its working and the quality of the work done.
5th.—The self-adjusting Tension.

The Florence was awarded the first and highest premium at the State Fair of California, the only Fair on the Pacific coast at which any two double thread Sewing Machines were exhibited in competition in 1865.

The Florence received the only premium awarded, by the Mechanic's Institute of San Francisco, in 1864 and 1865, to any Sewing Machine, Sewing Machine Co., or Agent. The claim of a competitor to a medal is without any foundation whatever.

Wherever the Florence has been brought in competition with other Sewing Machines, it has always been declared the best. It is the most simple, the most substantial, the most efficient, and its use is easily learned. Every Machine sold is guaranteed in the full sense of the word.

THE ISLE AND STAR.

The annexed production is from the pen of George D. Prentice, editor of the Louisville Journal. It is one of those gems which Mr. Prentice in his increasing years, occasionally gives to the world to the rejection of political pasquinade:

In the tropical seas
There's a beautiful Isle,
Where storms never darken
The sunlight's soft smile.
There the hymn of the breeze
And the hymn of the stream
Are mingled in one,
Like sweets sounds in a dream.

There the song-birds at morn,
From thick shadows start,
Like musical thoughts
From the poet's full heart.
There the song birds at noon
Sit in silence unbroken,
Like an exquisite dream
In the bosom unspoken.

There the flowers hang like rainbows,
On wild wood and lea—
Oh say, wilt thou dwell
In that sweet Isle with me?
In the depth of the sky
There's a beautiful star,
Where no cloud casts a shadow,
The bright scene to mar.

There the rainbows ne'er fade,
And the dews are ne'er dry,
And a circlet of moons
Ever shines in the sky.
There the songs of the blest
And the songs of the spheres
Are unceasingly heard
Through the infinite years.

There the soft airs float down
From the amarynth bowers,
All fresh with the perfume
Of Eden's own flowers,
There truth, love and beauty
Immortal will be—
Oh say, wilt thou dwell
In that sweet star with me?

THE LAST HOURS OF LOUIS XI.

"Waugh! waugh!, who is this strong God that pulls me down?"—Dying exclamation of Clovis, King of France.

It is true that every death is the final scene of a solemn tragedy, though that death be a peasant's, the bed a heath; but it is also true that some of those scenes, although the grand lesson of mortality is taught by all alike, are infinitely more impressive, illustrate the supreme warning with a more startling commentary, a more vivid illustration, than the daily deaths of thousands of ordinary men and women.

Take, for example the death witnessed on the last day of August, 1438, in a spacious apartment, hung with leather, stamped with fantastic golden devices, of a fortified castle on the banks of the Loire, at no great distance from Tours. The dying man writhing with torture upon a state bed is Louis the Eleventh, of France, whose general character has been traced with sufficient accuracy by Sir Walter Scott in "Quentin Durward." The pitiless King, who had played with human lives as if no more precious than those of the beasts that perish, to whom a decree of instant death upon the slightest suspicion, sometimes from mere caprice, had been little more than a pastime—now that his own hour had come, was shrieking for help to be saved from death, furiously threatening his attendants with death themselves if they did not relieve his agony—drag him back from the terrible tomb! Few of those who have read the narrative—not that penned by Philip de Comines, the historian, and perhaps the only worthy man who really esteemed Louis the Eleventh—but must still, as the fearful scene surges up from the depths of memory, distinctly hear those shrieks, entreaties, threatenings, through all the roar and tumult of intervening centuries.

Present in the death-chamber were the King's physician, Jacques Courtier; Oliver le Dain, commonly called Oliver the Devil, his majesty's barber; Philip de Comines, the historian of his age; Francis de Paul, a monk and pilgrim not long arrived from the Holy Land, since beautified, and the bearer of a rich reliquary, the touch of which Louis, in his agonising despair, tries to hope will bring back health and strength. The sixth and sadly silent observant person present was Jean Burnet, a priest belonging to the church of Notre Dame de Clery, and generally resident at the castle palace. In a corner of the apartment lay a white hound, which had been gored by a wild boar a few days previously. The King, a skilled hunter, had been fond of the hound, and yet when Jacques Courtier told him the animal would recover, Louis fiercely resented the intelligence as an injury and insult to himself. Why should a dog, for whose preservation no lavishly payed for prayers went up to heaven, for which relics possessed no healing virtue, have life, and not he—an anointed king? Twice anointed, indeed; for when some years before he had been in great danger Louis had sent for the ampoulle, at Rheims, and had the sacred balm, the portion which had not been used at his coronation, poured upon his head. His majesty was, unquestionably, a believer in the solemn verities of the Christian religion, though its teachings in no wise influenced his actions. The names of Christ, of the Holy Virgin, of numerous saints, were forever on his lips, their leaden images in his hat; but the examples of their lives he never for a moment dreampt of imitating in the most distant degree. A liberal benefactor of churches, too, but only in pursuance of his plan, suggested by a perversion of the sacred injunction to lay up treasures in heaven—a working for wages, in fact, making an immeasurably profitable investment of the gold of earth, to be repaid by the joys of heaven. And yet it would seem that his majesty must have had fearful forebodings that his offerings had not been accepted, or he would scarcely have trembled with such horror when summoned to receive his reward.

On a pillow, within easy reach of the king's hand, lay a silver whistle. With that his majesty could summon his guards stationed on the top landing of the winding, narrow stone stairs leading to the chamber, every turning of which was commanded by their arquebuses. Louis the Eleventh had but to sound that whistle, and in one minute, had the command issued from his lips, every man in that chamber would have been a corpse. He had committed atrocities equal to, if not surpassing that, which might not perhaps be possible. All there knew this, and it may have been this knowledge that had so blanched the cheeks of Oliver the Devil, and of Jacques Courtier, the physician. Philip de Comines could scarcely have apprehended danger from any delirious access of rage on the part of the furious monarch, nor could the priest of St. Clery; and as to Francis de Paul, he, from what is known of him, would have disdained the danger, if by his presence there he might help to save a sinful soul.

Francis de Paul is kneeling by the King's bed, praying aloud that his majesty's malady be healed, but of all supplicating for his soul's health. Louis, I should state, had been struck for the second time by apoplexy; but it was not that attack which was thrusting, primarily thrusting him into the grave. It did so in a secondary sense only, by having weakened his power to bear up against the internal disease which was killing him with torture. The king, has not, it seems, unbounded confidence in the success of the monk's prayers. The relics have not been tried as yet, for his anxious, glaring glance is fixed upon the physician's countenance, whilst that functionary feels the royal patient's pulse. Hark? Breaking in upon the monk's prayers you hear the chanting of the priests in the king's chapel, where they swell to a louder strain than usual. You hear more than that; a scream of agony, more than once repeated, finds a faint echo in that chamber. Those screams are wrung from Philip of Gaultier, an obscure individual suspected of being concerned in some absurd plot against the life of Louis; and they are torturing the wretched man to make him confess who were his accomplices. The probability is, that to be relieved of the maddening agony he will give the names of men utterly innocent of the "plot," if there was one. These piteous screams do not arrest for a moment the attention of Louis the Eleventh. They are old familiar cries. Perhaps he doesn't hear them, nor does he apparently Francis de Paul's prayers. His eyes continue fixed upon the face of the physician, who, having satisfied himself of the king's pulse, retires softly to the foot of the bed, without uttering a syllable. Then the countenance of the king fell, and over his white, wasted features the shadow of an unutterable despair visibly deepened.

The physician is about to speak. "Stop! stop!" cried Louis, in shrill, screaming tones, in part due to the intense agony he was suffering—"stop! If you, Courtier, will relieve me of this agony—if you will save my life—save my life only for a few months—nay, weeks—I swear by the holy saints to double your salary. Where you have now twenty thousand livres you shall have forty thousand."

The physician replies only by a look and a sardonic smile. Within an hour as he well knows, Louis the Eleventh will be as poor as the most miserable beggar that ever died.

The physician's look and smile threw the King into a transport of rage. "Ha!" he shouted, rage lending him momentary strength—"ha! traitors! fools! I am not so ill as you pretend to believe. It is the closeness of this room which stifles me. Let my horse be saddled, I will ride out—ride out at once;" and he actually got out of bed, and bade Oliver the Devil to dress him. The wounded hound, amazed by its master's voice, and seeing him, ran feebly towards Louis, and was at his feet, when the king fell back, fainting, upon the bed, into which he was immediately helped. "It was the dog—the dog," feebly murmured Louis, whilst big drops of agony and fear stood upon his clammy forehead. "The dog threw me down: I could else have gone out, I am sure I could."

Francis de Paul had continued praying aloud—not ceasing for the incident just related; he knowing, as well as the physician, that, unless the relics worked a miracle Louis the Eleventh would pass to his account ere another hour chimed from the palace belfry. Despairing of medical, the King, as a last hope, sought spiritual help. "The reliquary, holy Francis! the reliquary! Miracles have been worked ere now by sainted relics, and—quick! quick!" Francis de Paul rose from his knees, took the reliquary in his reverend hands and approached the King.

"One moment! one moment! If by virtue of these holy relics my life is preserved, I solemnly promise to endow the church to which you belong more richly than any other in France."

The monk smiled a sad, compassionate smile; and on his knees presented the relics to be touched by the King, he himself praying fervently in silence the while.

There was no help in the relics. The King screamed in a more than usually severe paroxysm of pain. When it had partially subsided, Louis beckoned Philip de Comines to approach. "Bend down your ear close to my mouth," he feebly whispered. "This illness may, I say may, terminate fatally. That is not likely—but possible. Shohld Courtier tell you that it must so terminate, tell me yourself, in a whisper. Say only, 'You must compose—tranquillise yourself.' Nothing more. I shall understand, and will devote what days and nights may remain to me in prayer to the saints. Enough!"

Whilst this incident was passing, Courtier was talking, soto voce, to Oliver le Dain, or the Devil. Oliver had been encouraged by Louis for many years to treat the monarch, when alone, with great freedom—to tell him disagreeable truths. Oliver the Devil imagined he might, without danger to himself, exercise the same privilege now.

Gliding with his customary cat-like steps to the head of the bed, he "loudly, rudely," says Philip de Comines—"not gently, soothingly, as a mighty monarch in his last agony should be spoken with, loudly, rudely said, 'It is time this farce were finished. You will not live half an hour. The holy Francis de Paul and his relics cannot prolong your life a moment. Prepare, then, to die as a King of France ought.'"

The royal barber's words acted as a galvanic shock might have done upon the moribund. Louis rose on end in the bed, his haggard face, his darkening eyes aflame with rage. "Audacious traitor!" he screamed, "dare you speak to me? But whether I live or die, I am master here whilst I do live; and your life, Oliver the Devil, is, with all others, in my hands. I swear to you by my soul's salvation, as I hope for heaven, I will not be the first in this room that shall die. That I swear, invoking all the saints to bear witness to my oath. Oliver le Dain, you shall precede your master to the tomb."

Louis snatched the silver whistle, and was putting it to his lips, when Francis de Paul interposed, "In the name of God, King Louis, before whom you must shortly appear, do not at this supreme moment stain your soul with murder. Put down that whistle, for the sake of your own eternal welfare."

The King hesitates, still eying Oliver the Devil with ferocious hate. That person said nothing, but the cold sweat which covered his face, and no doubt the whole surface of his body; his trembling knees, which knocked against each other, showed that he felt the imminence of peril he had rashly drawn upon himself.

"Oliver the Devil is a villian, an assassin, a poisoner guilty of a thousand crimes," gasped Louis. "It will be a meritorious act to end that wicked life."

"God will absolve me! Your, holy, father, will absolve me!"

"That I will not, dare not do. O King of France, Descendant of Saint Louis, put away these bloody thoughts. Fix your eyes, your thoughts, upon this image of Him by whose passion and sacrafice you can only be saved from eternal perdition."

Louis seemed to be most affected by the declaration of Saint Francis de Paul, that he would not—dared not—give him absolution if he took the life of Oliver le Dain: and the monarch directed his inquiring to Jean Brunot, the priest of Notre Dame de Clery. The absolution of one priest, he no doubt argued, must be as efficacious as another. There was no encouragement in Brunot's answering glance. He continned praying, as could be seen by the motion of his lips.

"But my oath—my oath—just uttered!" resumed Louis, in rancorous but feeble tones. He was loth to loose his murderous clutch of Oliver le Dain. "My oath! Have I not sworn by my soul's salvation that I will not be the first in this room that shall die? Shall I appear before the judgement seat—if I must so soon appear there—But it is not—cannot—shall not be true! You are all combined to cheat, to terrify, madden me! Shall I—should I—appear before the dreadful judgement seat with an unfilled oath upon my conscience?"

"I can absolve you from that. God will absolve you. It is a fearful crime to fulfil a wicked vow, especially when warned not to do so by the Church; and the Church through me warns you, O son of the sainted Louis, lose not your own soul for the gratification of a miserable craving for vengance."

Louis the Eleventh was startled—awed. Still, the orthodoxy of even Francis de Paul might be at fault. That hideous oath which he had uttered but a few minutes since, might he not in the unseen world have to make a terrible explenation for its non-fulfilment?

At that moment the hound gave a faint low howl, caused, no doubt, by pain. A sparkling light gleamed in the eyes of the dying king. "Ah! my oath was that I would not be the first in this room to die. I remember the words clearly. I did not say the first man. Oliver, kill the dog."

Oliver obeyed with alacrity; he killed the dog, which expired with a loud howl.

King Louis the Eleventh rapidly sank after this; his failing brain, revealed by the childish comments that he made, gave unmistakable token that the end was very near. He tried to talk of Government policy, to send instructions to his son throuh Philip de Comines; but every topic slipped from his mental grasp. He commanded that the slain hound should have a monument; declared that he had always intended to build fourteen churches in honor of the Virgin Mary—seven for the Seven Dolours, seven for the Seven Joys of the Mother of Christ—would do so—it should be his first work if his life were spared.

The darkness grew thicker, the icy hand of death colder. The king went on muttering prayers by habit, of whose purport his mind must have lost all perception. And thus, with prayers of Francis de Paul, the chantings of the priests in the distant chapel, and the screams of poor Gaultier, which had not yet ceased, though now but faintly heard, the soul of Louis passed to its account.

HAPPINESS.—The idea has been transmitted from generation to generation that happiness is one large and beautiful precious stone, a single gem so rare that all search after it is vain, all effort for it hopeless. It is not so. Happiness is a Mosaic composed of many smaller stones. Each taken apart and viewed singly may be of little value, but when grouped together and judiciously combined and set, they form a pleasing and graceful whole—a costly jewel. Trample not under foot, then, the little pleasures which a gracious Providence scatters in the daily path, and which, in eager search after some great and exciting joy, we are so apt to overlook. Why should we always keep our eyes fixed on the bright, distant horizon, while there are so many lovely roses in the garden in which we are permitted to walk? The very ardor of our chase after happiness may be the reason that she so often eludes our grasp. We pantingly strain after her when she has been graciously brought nigh unto us.

THERE are those who know how to judge of merit by success, and who therefore blame the leader of an enterprise for a defeat, when the fault was not in him, but in themselves, the instrument he worked with.

THE bones of a human body have been found at Springfield Ill., securely built into the foundation walls of a house which has just been taken down.

THE poorest man in the world is one who has nothing but wealth.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.

I went one night to see a comedy. The chief actor was a favorite one, and the house was very crowded. The curtain rose, and amidst a burst of applause the hero of the piece made his appearance. He had hardly uttered twenty words, when it struck me that something strange was the matter with him.

The play was a boisterous comedy of the old school, and required considerable spirit and vivacity of the actor to sustain it properly; but in this man there was none; he walked like a person in a dream; his best points he passed over without appearing to perceive them; and altogether he was quite unfit for the part. His smile was ghastly, and his voice was hollow and unnatural; and frequently he stopped off suddenly in his speech, and let his eye wander vacantly over the audience.

Even when, in the character of a silly husband, he had to suffer himself to be kicked about the stage by a bold rake of the comedy, and afterwards to behold that careless individual making love to his wife and eating his supper, while he was shut up in a closet whence he could not emerge, his contortions of ludicrous wrath, which had never before failed to bring down plenty of applause, were now such miserable attempts to portray the passions, that hisses were audible in every part of the theatre. The audience was fairly out of temper, and several inquisitive individuals were particular in their inquiries as to the extent of potations he had that day indulged in. The storm of sibilition and abuse now fell around the ears of the devoted actor, and not content with verbal insult, orange peel and apples flew upon the stage.

He stopped and turned to the shouting crowd. I never saw such misery in a human countenance. His face was worn and haggard, and tears rolled down his painted cheeks. I saw his lips quivering with mental agony. I saw his bosom heave with convulsions of suppressed emotion, and his whole mien betokened such depth of agony and distress, the most ruthless heart must have throbbed with pity.

The audience was moved, and by degrees the clamor of invective subsided into a solemn stillness while he stood near the footlights, a picture of dejection. When all was calm he spoke, and in a voice broken with sobs which seemed to rend his bosom, he offered his explanation.

"Ladies and Gentlemen," he said, "though in my acting to-night I am confident of meriting your displeasure, in one thing you do me wrong. I am not intoxicated. Emotion alone, and that of the most painful kind, has caused me to fill my allotted part so badly; my wife died but a few short hours ago, and I left her side to fulfiill my unavoidable engagement here. If I have not pleased you, I implore you to forgive. I loved her, grieve for her, and if anguish can excuse a fault, I bear my apology—here!"

He placed his hand upon his heart, and a burst of tears relieved his momentary paroxysm of grief.

The audience was thoroughly affected, and an honest burst of sympathy made the walls tremble. Women wept loudly, and strong men silently, and during the remainder of the evening his performance was scarcely audible through the storm of aplause by which the crowd sought to soothe the poor mam's wounded feelings,

There was something very melancholy in the thought of that wretched man's coming from the bed of death to don gay attire, and utter studied witticisms for the amusement of a crowd, not one of which dreamed of the anguish that festered under his painted cheeks and stage smile. And in the great theatre of life, how many are there around us, like that poor actor, smiling gayly at the multitude, while at home lies sorrow, whose shadow is always with them in busy places.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF SOMNAMBULISM.

We find the following report of an extraordinary case of somnambulism in our exchanges: A young ecclesiastic used to rise every night and write sermons or pieces of music. To study his condition an archbishop betook himself several nights to the chamber of the somnambulist, where he made the following observations: The young man used to rise, to take paper and to write. Before he wrote music he woulk take a stick and rule the lines with it; he wrote the notes, together with the words corresponding with them, with perfectness; or, when he had written the words too wide, he altered them. The notes that were to be black he filled in after he had completed the whole. After completeing a sermon he read it aloud from beginning to end. If any passage displeased him, he errased it, and wrote the amended passage correctly over the other.

To ascertain whether he used his eyes the archbishop interposed a sheet of pasteboard between the writing and his face. He took not the slightest notice, but went on writing as before. The limitations of his perceptions to what he was thinking about was very curious. A bit of aniseed cake that he had sought for he ate approvingly; but when on another occasion a piece of the same cake was put into his mouth, he spit it out without observation. The following instance of the dependence of his perceptions upon, or rather their subordination to, his preconceived ideas, is truly wonderful. It is to be observed that he always knew when his pen had ink in it.

Likewise, if they adroitly changed his papers when he was writing, he knew if the sheet substituted was of a different size from the former, and appeared embarrassed in that case; but if the fresh sheet of paper which was substituted for that written was exactly the same size of the former, he appeared not to be aware of the change, and he would continue to read off his composition from the blank sheet of paper as [illegible] when the manuscript [illegible] nay, more, he would continue his corrections and [illegible] writing it upon exactly the place occupied by the blank sheet which it would have on the written page.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY, DEC. 7, 1867.

FIRST ANNUAL MEETING.—The Dozier Mettallurgic Company held their first annual meeting at their office in this place on Monday, December 2d, at which the following named persons were elected officers: E. L. Bradley, President; M. S. Gardner, Secretary; D. W. Strong, Treasurer; A. T. Dozier, Superintenent; Trustees, E. L. Bradley, M. S. Gardner, D. W. Strong, S. B. Harriman and M. Frink. The field for operations chosen by the company is at Benton, Mono county, Cal., where they have erected three furnaces, one for the purpose of testing the ores of all who may desire; one for the practical working of all ores brought to their furnaces, which is large enough to take in a thousand pounds of rock at a time, and will work five tons in twenty-four hours, and one furnace for refining purposes. The Secretary has already received a test brick weighing some six pounds. At the meeting of the Company an assessment of thirty dollars per share was levied which will be sufficient to pay up the debts, including the expense of building the furnaces, paying the hands, officers, etc. All who are interested in this company appear very sanguine as to the ultimate success of the process discovered by Dr. Dozier, and hold their shares at high prices, in fact we have heard of no shares for sale. We hope this may be a success, for apart from our good feeling to those engaged in the enterprise, it will prove of almost incalculable benefit to the quartz mining interest of our State, enabling those who have been heretofore baffled in the reduction of ores to work them by this process with great ease and increased profits. It is destined to create a great revolution in this department of mining, and will, like all worthy inventions create employment for thousands at remunerative prices who are now lying idle.

SUPREME COURT REPORTER.—It is with feelings of great gratification that we are enabled to announce that on Saturday last, the Hon. James E. Hale, was appointed by Governor Low Reporter of the Supreme Court of the State. Mr. Hale has been a resident of our county for the last seventeen years, during which time he has occupied a leading position in our county affairs; he was at one time County Judge, which position he filled with greater satisfaction to the people generally, and particularly to the members of the bar than any man who had preceded him or has since succeeded him. Shortly after his judicial term expired he was nominated by the Union party for the position of State Senator, and was triumphantly elected at the ensuing election. During his four years of Senatorial career Judge Hale exerted as much or more influence with his fellow-members than any other man in that body. He was considered, from his sound and mature judgment, quick perception and extensive knowledge in legal matters as the leader among the intellectual spirits with whom he was acting. No better appointment could have been made, and we, with hundreds of our fellow-citizens of Placer county, feel grateful to know that a man we honor and esteem has been the recipient of so responsible and remunerative office.

THE PLAYERS.—We are glad to see that the Secretary has called a meeting of the Amateurs to take into consideration the opening of a winter campaign. The encouragement given by our citizens last winter was such as to warrant a renewal at this time. No foreign shows have paid here since the Amaturs drew crowded houses. We have no public library, no lyceum, nor debating club, and we may be tempted to do far worse things than attending the exhibition by our own young folks of the Amaetur Company. And as they have always devoted the proceeds above expenses to some good cause, we can see no serious objections to the production of some good plays. On the contrary: there are many valuable advantages attained by those who participate and those who hear. The players become better readers and speakers, they store their minds with many gems of literature, and of sound morality, they get control of their bodies and learn the graces of an easy and elegant carriage and manners. The audience, too, may get the benefit of all this culture without danger of any demoralizing contamination such as too often attends the theatre. Let something be done for the benefit of the community, during the long winter evenings.

SENATORIAL.—It is reported by the knowing ones that of all the candidates for Senatorial honors Eugene Casserly and J. P. Hoge of San Francisco alone have any show of success, the former, it is stated, only required eight votes to nominate him on Tuesday last. This, however, may be materially altered before the time set by law to elect—next Tuesday week.

GOVERNOR Haight and Lieutenant-Governor Holden each took the oath of office on Thursday last, and each delivered speeches, which are much too lengthy for our columns. We hope they will fulfill the promises made and bend their energies for the interests and happiness of the people during their terms of office.

MITE SOCIETY.—This organization is to hold a meeting at the house of Senator Bradley on Tuesday evening next to renew the good works for which they are so celebrated. It is hoped the house will be filled.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Both branches of our State Legislature met at Sacramento on Monday last. The Senate organized on Tuesday last, substantially carrying out the plan suggested by the Union members. The vote in permanent organization and election of officers stood 21 to 18, electing the following named persons: L. D. Mizner as President pro tem.; John White, Secretary; W. F. Heustis, Assistant Secretary; F. S. Lardner, Sergeant-at-Arms; T. Mahoney, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms; C. E. Barnes, Minute Clerk; John E. Dent, Journal Clerk; W. H. Frink, Engrossing Clerk; Walter L. Hawkins, Enrolling Clerk; and A. Perley and D. S. Marston, Copying Clerks. Rev. J. S. McDonald was appointed Chaplain; R. G. Harris, Night Watchman; George G. Whitlock, Fire man; and Evans C. Clark, Messenger. In the House they were not so fortunate and did not complete the organization till Wednesday when C. T. Ryland was elected Speaker. Speaker pro tem, J. J. O'Malley; John A. Eagan, Chief Clerk; John K. Luttrell of Siskiyou, Sergeant-at-Arms. The Speaker was qualified by Justice Sanderson and addressed the House in a brief speech. The remaining officers were duly elected and qualified. Rev. T. H. B. Anderson of Sacramento was elected Chaplain. A resolution was adopted that the Senate be informed of the organization of the Assembly. Now that the wheels of government are in motion we hope the members of the Legislature will not fritter away the valuable time of the people, and consequently the people's money, by the useless discussion of politics, but go earnestly to work enacting laws which redound to the happiness of the people generally as well as to their own future credit. We know of no people so unfortunate as those who are ruled too much. There are many laws now upon our State books that ought never to have found a place there and should be erased; there are also some wholesome enactments of past legislatures that require revision, one which we might name as requiring the attention of sound lawyers and good practical business heads is the Registration Law. The law as it now stands is too voluminous making many of its provisions difficult to understand, and should be simplified and corrected. The principle of a registry law we favor; believing that by it alone can we protect the ballot-box, and think the law should be preserved; but we are also satisfied that many are unjustly deprived of citizenship by the provisions of this law as it now stands upon the books.

After the organization of both houses committees of three from each were appointed to inform the Governor of their action and he transmitted his message to both houses at two o'clock on Wednesday last.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.—We notice in the report of Mr. Oulton, the very able and efficient State Controller, who has retired from office, the following high compliment to W. B. Lyon, our present County Recorder. The mention of Mr. Lyon's name, as one suitable to assist by his counsel in the framing of judicious financial laws, and the system to be adopted in its execution, is a compliment not only honorable to the individual but a credit to the people who by their votes have endorsed him with large majorities for three successive terms:

As the surest way of securing an efficient, economical and practical revenue system, I recomend that, upon the assembling of the incoming Legislature, a Joint Committee of the two Houses be appointed upon the revision of the Revenue law, the members of which Committee may be relieved from other Committee duties, and thus enabled to devote their whole time to this important subject. And if I may be permitted by that Committee, I will recommit to call to its assistance some of the County Auditors, who, from long experience in the practical workings of our revenue system, can render valuable aid in framing a better and more economical one. From knowledge acquired during several years of official business connection with those gentlemen, I take the liberty of suggesting the names of Henry M. Hale, Auditor of the city and county of San Francisco, Murray Whallon, Auditor of Sonoma county, and Walter B. Lyon, Auditor of Placer county, as gentlemen who could render valuable assistance to the Committee.

GOLD RUN.—The Dutch Flat lodge of Good Templars has challenged the Gold Run lodge to a wood sawing and splitting tournament for Mrs. Williams, a member of the Gold Run lodge, lately bereaved by the loss of her husband. The challenge has been accepted, and the trial is to come off next week. The ladies of the two places are to be on hand to applaud the noble Knights, and afterwards to feed them. Who is the stalwart youth whose brow will be "wreathed with victorious laurels?" Tell us ladies, and his name shall be blazoned upon every pillar of the temple of fame.

STARTING UP.—The deep shaft claim in this place started their fall run with a full head of water and three pipes on Monday morning last. The Dutch Flat company have been several days sinking a shaft to find the bed rock and learn how much blue gravel there is, and how much gold in it. They also started their pipes to playing on Wednesday. Taef's claim is also working. The dust will shortly pour into the Bankers office, and all will be lively.

TOWLE'S MILL.—Mr. Allen Towle has rebuilt his Saw Mill, and set it going. It cuts about 6,000 feet of lumber daily, and runs like oil. The enormous pile of logs above it will soon be devoured by the voracious long-toothed circulars that snarl the day away in piles of saw dust.

THE Monitor declares for Casserly. He is the candidate of the Irish portion of the Democracy for United States Senator.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.—Gov. Low sent his biennial message on Wednesday last, in which he says that with prudence and economy the "speedy liquidation of the public debt is an assured fact," this is doubtless gratifying to the well-wishers of our State and particularly so to our own citizens. This fact has become apparent too, in the face of the gratifying assurance that the taxes can be reduced ten cents more on the hundred dollars of property, making the entire reduction since Mr. Low has been in office of twenty-eight cents on the one hundred dollars of property. This, considering that the State has expeuded large amounts in the payment of her volunteers must be a source of pride, and leaves no room for an excuse on the part of the present State officials or Democratic legislature to rush insanely in debt or advocate and impose increased taxation on the people. The Governor in referring to financial affairs says:

"In January, 1864, in a special message to the Legislature, I estimated the debt and liabilities of the State to be $5,365,640 71, from which should be deducted an appropriation made for the deaf and dumb and blind, of $75,000, which was not expended; this left $5,290,540 71 as the actual indebtedness of the State at that date. Since then there have been paid for extraordinary purposes: For relief and bounty to California volunteers, $2,036,108 62; for constructing additional buildings at Insane Asylum, $184,165 28; for constructing additional buildings at State Prison, $78,233 89; for the purchase of land and erection of new buildings for the deaf, dumb and blind, $50,000; for amount expended in construction of State Capitol, $426,357 12; for redemption of old Indian war bonds not included in the statement of debt, $32,500; total, $2,807,362 91, amounting in all to the sum of $2,809,362 91. Notwithstanding these payments for extraordinary purposes, the total debt is now less by $164,140 71 than it was four years ago. As a large proportion of these extraordinary demands upon the treasury grew out of the late civil war, no provision need be made for such claims in the future. With the exercise, therefore, of ordinary prudence by the law-making power, the annual tax for the General Fund can be further reduced 10 cents on the $100. The resources, applicable to the payment of interest, and the creation of Sinking Funds will fully liquidate the entire debt of the State within the next ten years."

The Secretary of State has succeeded in gathering and filing in his office the scattered archives of the State. He recommends that the several County Recorders be required to prepare annually a statement setting forth the financial condition of their respective counties. The management of the State Insane Asylum has been unexceptional during the past two years; the report of the Resident Physician shows a fearful increase in the number of patients during that time, and that officer enters fully into the causes which conduce to that end, and quotes extensively from scientific works to substantiate his position. The exhibit as made by the Governor in his message relating to every department of our State Government is gratifying in the extreme, and we regret that our limits will not allow us to make more extended and greater extracts.

THE NEW NOMINATING SYSTEM.—The plan of effecting political nominations, which was first put into operation by the Republicans of Crawford county, Pennsylvania, in 1860, and which is known as the "Crawford County System," has been successfully adopted in other parts of Pennsylvania, and is viewed with much favor in the East.—The plan is as follows:

1. That all persons seeking nominations shall make the fact known, and that three weeks before the day fixed for nominations, there shall be a registry of all the Republican voters of the county, in their several precincts.

2. On the day fixed for the nomination, these voters shall meet at their respective precincts and vote printed or written tickets, containing the names of all of those whom they want nominated, and no person to be entitled to vote at any precinct unless so previously registered therein as a Republican voter.

3. The inspectors to make returns to a central committee, with attestation of the fairness of the same, and the latter to count the returns, and to declare, as the candidates, those names having the highest number of votes.

This plan gives the voters of the party a fair chance to express their preference. It puts a stop to the corruption and wire pulling of Nominating Conventions, and by its registration feature prevents the perpetration of fraud at the primaries. In addition it gives facilities for the settlement of minor questions within the party. The obvious advantages of this system are so great that we hope that it will be legalized by the next Legislature.

The Golden City is the name of a new literary paper started in San Francisco December 1st, by J. M. Foard, G. B. Densmore, and T. J. Foard, editors and publishers. The first of these was one of the originators of the Golden Era and has a large experience in the Sunday literature newspaper business, and undoubtedly knows what he is about. Densmore has had experience as a writer, and is not lacking in grace and power, and ought to know how to make good selections as well as to write well. The first number looks well. For a Vignette it has a fine view of the harbor and city of San Francisco. Dorr contributes a good poem; the editorials are fair, and there is an immense amount and variety of reading matter. We hope it may do much good and, succed nobly.

TO YOUNG MEN.—The Second of the series of discourses to young men will be delivered at the Union Church, tomorrow evening, by Rev. J. E. Benton, on "The Development of Thought."

LETTER FROM COLFAX.

COLFAX, Nov. 27, 1867.

ED. ENQUIRER:—The hopes and highest anticipations of our placer miners have been fully realized since my last writing. Four days of incessant rain has blessed that class of our people with the necessary element to develop their mines and have succeeded admirably, according to reports. H. Tangerman & Co. have lately fixed their diggings in proper shape by erecting hydraulic pipes and putting in a bed-rock flume. These diggings formerly belonged to Walker & Co., and are situated one mile west of Colfax; they were worked but imperfectly last winter, and hence, yielded but little in the aggregate, to the shareholders. The mine has now fallen into hands with means and energy, things to develop it, and the season propitious, the proprietors will realize a golden harvest for their investment. Some distance below, on the same creek, several claims have been prospected and are now being worked. I am not yet informed as to the exact amount realized to the hand per day, but have been told it overruns their most sanguine expectations. The placer mines 1½ miles east of town, and known as "Kilmer's," are also temunerative to their owners. During the last six months two companies have been at work taking out pay dirt, and piling it up for the winter rains, and are now washing out the precious ore in abundance. I could mention many others but time and space will not permit.

BALLS.

Young and old, male and female, Jew and Gentile, religious as well as non-church-goers, determined to celebrate Thanksgiving becomingly, and like sensible people willingly went to work and got up with little display, a splendid "hop" that evening at the Masonic hall. The hall has been lately finished, and this was the first time it was blessed with the young, gay and beautiful portion of our town. The brilliancy of the chandeliers were nothing in comparison to the light emitted from the countenances of our young ladies, to attempt a description of whom would be futile, enough to say, they all looked lovely, danced well and seemed happy. They danced waltzes, reels, flings, cotillions and Irish jigs, and at the end I imagined myself in the land of the Saints, enjoying the delights of Donnybrook Fair, except that shillelahs came in contact with innocent skulls in the latter, but were dispensed with on this occasion.

DEMOCRACY, ETC.

Many of our Democratic neighbors have gone to the Capital to witness the inaugurarion of our new Governor. Among them I notice a great many defeated candidates; they are going to Sacramento, and are witling to sacrafice their private interests for the public good; how they will succeed remains to be seen. On looking over the arrangements for the inauguration, I find that military companies are ordered to be in readiness, and will come forth on that memorable day. The Governor is to have all the accessible military force down below to add to the pageant, and Controller Watt is to have the Nevada company as his escort to office, and I am pained to see that no effort has been made by our people to make a becoming demonstration for our officers. Jo Hamilton must go alone to assume the arduous duties of Attorney General, our Senators and Assemblymen must do likewise. Sic transit gloria mundi. MORE ANON.

EXCURSION TRAIN.—This morning an excursion train will pass our town with both branches of the State Legislature and the Society of Pioneers on board. The train will proceed as far as the big tunnel at Summit Valley, and return. This train makes no stop at the way stations.

IF you wish the very best CABINET PHOTOGRAPHS, you must call on BRADLEY & RULOFSON, 429 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

BORN.

MINING ACCIDENT.—The Nevada Gazette says: "An accident occurred at the shaft of the Buckeye Company, on the Blue Tent road, about three o'clock Sunday morning, by which a horse was instantly killed, and two men narrowly escaped a like fate. The shaft is 211 feet deep, has two compartments, and the hoisting is done by a horse whim. They were engaged in raising water from the shaft a man named Doyle working below, and another named Doley was attending to matters above. A tub of water had been raised about a hundred feet, when an iron pin which fastens the yoke to the arm of the whim broke, letting the full tub down and bringing up the empty tub, with great velocity. Doley, who at once observed the accident, caught the arm of the whim and endeavored to hold it, but he was thrown upon the ground with great severity. When he recovered the horse was lying dead, and the rope had all unwound from the drum and was at the bottom of the shaft. The beam had struck the horse just back of the ear probably breaking his neck. Doyle, who was in the shaft, had fortunately stepped into the other compartment; but the empty tub struck a cross beam on the way up, breaking the rope, and it came rattling down, missed his head by only a few inches. Doley procured some assistance, and by means of another rope raised his fellow workman to the surface.

WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—Relative to the Western Pacific Railroad, the Stockton Independent says:

Ex-Governor Stanford and Judge Crocker have been in this city the last day or two on business connected with the Western Pacific Railroad. Although we have heard nothing definitely stated in regard to the positive intentions of the Company, the movements being made appear favorable to an early commencement of the work. It is said that the route is being located, but such statements have been made several times before, and each time proved to be incorrect. We learn that a petition will be presented to the Common Council on Monday evening next, asking the city authorities to grant the right of way for the road through the city. Probably something more definite in relation to the matter may be stated in the petition than has yet been made known.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—This morning, about two o'clock, says the Alta of the 4th, instant, Mrs. Gately, wife of the proprietor of the Brooklyn Hotel, corner of Broadway and Sansome streets, having occasion to visit the water closet, set the candle on the floor at her feet and fell asleep. She awoke to find herself enveloped in flames, the candle having set her clothes on fire. She ran out doors, screaming in agony, and help came quickly, but not in time to save her life, so terrible were the injuries inflicted. She lingered in great agony until about six o'clock, when death put an end to her sufferings. The unfortunate woman was the mother of five children.

BILL VAN NADER BEATEN.—We clip the following from the Sacramento Bee, of the 16th ult., says the Mendocino Herald, Van's 2lb pear is nowhere:—

At the Post office in this place, may be seen a pear, raised at the Tower House, which measures 16½ by 18½ inches, and weighing 2½ pounds. Who can beat that?—Shasta Courier.

The Bee the other day noticed a pear raised in Placer county that weighed three pounds. Now you are beaten; and old Placer stands ahead all along the foothills.

THE miners of French Corral have been engaged in cleaning out Chinaman, because the latter wanted to work as employees in a mine. The China cabins were destroyed and their owners driven off. It is rumored that the war against the Celestials will extend to San Juan. The driving off occured last Saturday, and is wrong.

A DISPATCH dated at Forest City, December 2d, says: "The shock of an earthqnake was very sensibly felt in this place and vicinity last night between eleven and twelve o'clock."

ON Sunday last, Dan Hatter, while attempting to cross the foot bridge over the North Fork of Feather River, near Junction Bar, fell from the bridge and was drowned. The deceased had resided on the East Branch for over 15 years. He was about 45 years of age.

LEROY JOHNSON, of Red Clover Valley, had his right arm broken, at Virginia City, on Friday of last week. He was engaged in hauling wood, when he accidentally fell from the wagon,

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine quo non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

SPECIAL MEDICAL NOTICE.—DR. CHARES H. TOZER would most respectfully inform the sick and afflicted that his MEDICAL INSTITUTE is removed to No. 108 Montgomery street, next door to the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco. Having relinquished my old modes of advertising, which has become so common with all the Quack Doctors of San Francisco, filling up the newspapers with false references, for the purpose of imposing upon strangers. I think it is only necessary to inform those in need of a Physician of long experience and successful practice, that I can be consulted at all business hours, at my Medical Institute, next door to the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco.

Ladies suffering from the Whites, Piles, Weakness of the Back, Pain in the Side, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Derangement of their Monthly Sickness, and all other diseases that the Female System is subject to, will find prompt relief by applying to DR. TOZER.

My Female Monthly Pills were never known to fail in giving relief in those cases for which they are recommended. To be obtained only at my office. Price $5 with full directions on each Box. Sent by mail or express.

REDINGTON & O.'S

ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER.

THIS valuable preparation, containing in a highly concentrated form all the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs

As a tonic it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever or otherwise, for whilst it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary effects that follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany that period.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by the riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes. It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc.

It is not surprising that you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by the surprising curative powers of and with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the greatest Panacea of the age, for the healing of all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, assuring you that has cured thousands and it will cure YOU if you try it. This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste; soothing, healing and strengthening in its effects; entirely free from all deleterious drugs, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.

NEWELL'S

PULMONARY SYRUP

NEWELL'S

ALL OVER THE WORLD

People of sense and judgment have learned to use

PLANTATION BITTERS.

Dyspepsia, with its symptoms, Headache, Heartburn, Feverish Lips, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., can be cured by using PLANTATION BITTERS.

This is the most successful tonic of the age. Young, middle-aged and old are delighted with its effects.

The first trial always has a marked effect.

No change in diet is necessary. Eat all you wish, of the best and most nutritious food.

It is the greatest cure ever known for an overloaded and distressed stomach, which it relieves in a few moments.

We know that we have the best and most popular medicine in the world. We are not afraid to show what it is composed of.

PHYSICIANS ARE COMPELLED TO RECOMMEND IT

CALISAYA BARK has been celebrated for over two hundred years, and was sold during the reign of Louis XVI, King of France for the enormous price of its weight in silver. It is remarkable for Dyspepsia, Fevers, Weakness, Constipation, etc.

CASCARILLA BARK.—For Diarrhœa, Colic and diseases of the stomach and bowels.

DANDELION.—For Inflammation of the Loins, and Dropsical Affections.

CAMOMILE FLOWERS.—For enfeebled digestion.

LAVENDER FLOWERS.—Aromatic, stimulant and tonic—highly invigorating in nervous debility.

WINTERGREEN.—For Scrofula, Rheumatism etc.

ANISE.—An aromatic carminative; creating flesh, muscle and milk; much used by mothers nursing.

Also clove-budge, orange, caraway, coriander, snake-root, etc.

Another wonderful ingredient, of Spanish origin imparting beauty to the complexion and brilliancy to the mind, is yet unknown to the commerce of the world, and we withhold its name for the present.

With this recipe before the community, and evidence of effects meeting them on all sides, the success of DR. DRAKE stands founded upon the rock of truth. Almost every family has some cases of suffering which the PLANTATION BITTERS will alleviate and cure.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon, is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our United States stamp over the cork unmutilated, and our signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The merits of this Liniment are well known. Its effects are instantaneous, soothing and wonderful.

Cuts, bruises, sprains and swellings are so common and certain to occur in every family, that a bottle of this Liniment is the best investment that can be made.

It is more certain than the doctor—it saves time in sending for the doctor—it is cheaper than the doctor, and should never be dispensed with.

READ THE FOLLOWING:

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, etc., and all say it acts like magic."

J. W. HEWITT,
Foreman for American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.

ED. SEELY.

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1855.

Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plate engravings, bearing the signature of G. W. Westbrook, Chemist, and the private U. S. stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Sold by all Druggists and Stores, at 25 and 50 cents and $1.

LYON'S FLEA POWDER.

It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of Fleas, Ticks, Bedbugs, Roaches etc.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe but entirely harmless to the human species and domestic animals.

Bedbugs, Ants, Roaches, etc., are in every house. This powder is their natural death. It should be in every cupboard.

JOHN L. ROME, Esq., Superintendent of the New York City Hospital, says: * * * "It is the only sure article we have ever used."

WHAT WOULD MY MOTHER SAY?

When childhood walks life's sunny way
With lightly bounding feet,
Rejoicing in its thoughtless glee,
To see the bright days fleet,
If e'er temptation's voice attempts
To lead its steps astray,
How swift the thought darts through the mind:
What would my mother say?

How often, too, in after years,
When childhood's days have fled,
And all our holiest mem'ries cling
Around the loved and dead,
The soul, assailed by snares and strife,
Would waver and give way
To wrong, but for the old thought:
What would my mother say?

What would she say, whose teachings breathed
Of all things pure and high,
To know her holy influence
From out our hearts could die?
Her precepts are as sacred things
We cannot cast away,
And hence in every doubt we ask
What would my mother say?

O sweet home lessons, early taught,
You cling around the heart—
Bright links that time and change defy,
And but with life depart;
If ere our wayward, wandering steps
From virtue's path would stray,
May some good angel wake the thought:
What would mother say?

THE TEACHINGS OF AN OAK STICK.—In a certain great city, says a popular writer, I bought a little sheaf of walking sticks, of yellow varnished oak. These I conveyed, by land and sea, till they reached the spot where they were to be allocated among the individuals who were to use them. One stick, very large, unwieldy, and uncomfortable, fell to myself. It had a great thick handle, crooked, and set on at a most awkward angle. I found it at first very uncomfortable to walk with. But in a few days, my hand got accostomed to it, and I came to like the stick very much. To others, unaccostomed to it, it remained awkward as before. That old oak stick taught me a lesson, and I gratefully record my obligation to it. The lesson was: Not to be angry with people for preferring their ways, and for declining to let you drive them into other ways which are perhaps absolutely better; for these persons may have grown so accostomed to the old ways that the old ways are best to them, if not best in themselves or in the judgment of a disinterested spectator. Preference is a relation between us and the things preferred—the result of use. Let people be happy in their own way. My yellow stick, the worst possible to many, is truly the best to me. Now I owe this to it: that it has cast a certain dignity about many little habits and oddities of manner, in various good men, at which in my thoughtless ignorance I was ready to laugh. Especially it has taught me to regard with respect the little ways, if not in themselves offensive, of old people. It would be a terrible thing to them to change the ancient way. So, if it make them happy, let them look for a long time at the outside of their letters, wondering from whom they came, and don't you petulantly tell them that the best way to ascertain that fact is to open the letters; let them twirl their thumbs and enjoy their like innocent pleasures; it would be terrible and cruel to push them out of their dear old ways. The old familiar faces may not be the prettiest faces, but they are the faces we like best to see. It is these little knobs and knots which make the walking-stick of life fit the aged hand, and to cut these off would put the whole thing out of gear.

Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff street, San Francisco.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and scientific medical aid in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of Secrecy and all Disorders.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal emissions, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to ensure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references of unquestionable veracity from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment, and implicit secrecy.

To Females.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, s, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousnes extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility and all other diseases peculiar to females, she should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about her troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All Married Ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred, Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are opened only and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible.

If the case be fully and candidly described, personal communication will be unnecessary, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case (including the remedies), will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey no idea of the purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay.

Address,

A CARD FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY

Of Waltham, Mass.

This Company beg leave to inform the public that they commenced operations in 1850, and their factory now covers four acres of ground, and has cost more than a million dollars, and employs over 700 operatives. They produce 75,000 Watches a year, and make and sell not less than one-half of all the watches sold in the United States.

The difference between their manufacture and the European, is briefly this: European are made almost entirely by hand, and the result is of necessity a lack of that uniformity, which is indispensable to correct time-keeping. Both the eye and the hand of the most skillful operative must vary. But it is a fact that, except watches of the higher grades, are the product of the cheapest labor of Switzerland and the result is the worthless Ancres, Lepines and so-called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attemptep repairs, than their original cost. Common workmen, boys and women, buy the rough separate parts of these watches from various factories, polish and put them together, and take to the nearest watch merchant, who stamps and engraves them with any name or brand that may be ordered.

How American Watches are made.

The American Waltham Watch is made by no such uncertain process—and by no such incompetent workmen. All the Company's operations, from the reception of the raw materials to the completion of the watch, are carried on under one roof, and under one skillful and competent direction. But the great distinguishing feature of their watches, is the fact that their several parts are all made by the finest, the most perfect and delicate machinery ever brought to the aid of human industry. Every one of the more than a hundred parts of every watch is made by a machine—that infallibly reproduces every succeeding part with the most unvarying accuracy. It was only necessary to make one perfect watch of any particular style and then to adjust the hundred machines necessary to reproduce every part of that watch, and it follows that succeeding watches must be like it.

The Company respectfully submit their watches on their merits only. They claim to make

A Better Article for the Money

by their improved mechanical processes than can be made under the old fashioned handicraft system. They manufacture watches of every grade, from a good, low-priced and substantial article, in solid silver hunting cases, to the finest chronometer; and also ladies' watches in plain gold or the finest enamelled and jeweled cases; but the indispensable requisite of all their watches is that they shall be GOOD TIME-KEEPERS. It should be remembered that, except their single lowest grade named the "Home Watch Company, Boston," ALL watches made by them by a special certificate, and this warrantee is good at all times against the Company or its agents.

ARE FULLY WARRANTED

MEDICAL.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH!

Every Man His Own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

AND

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, fiental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum,

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "modus operandi" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions on the Skin.

Arising from a bad state of the blood of chronic diseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles,	Sore Legs,
Burns,	Rheumatism,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Ringworm,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Salt Rheum,	Sore Throats,
Gout	Scalds,	Sprains,
Stiff Joints,	Fetter.	Ulcers.
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases	Venereal Sores,
Sores of all kinds,	Mercurial Eruptions,
Swelled Glands,	Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water Mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

* Sold at the manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, throughout the civilized world.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot and box.

☞ Dealers in my well-known medicines can have Show Cards, Circulars, &c., sent FREE OF EXPENSE, by addressing Thomas Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York. k9-1y

REMOVAL.

DR. TOZER,

Formerly of Lock Hospital, London,

Would most respectfully call the attention of the public of San Francisco and vicinity to the fact that he has removed his MEDICAL INSTITUTE from the corner of Jackson and Kearny streets, to

108 MONTGOMERY STREET,

Adjoining Occidental Hotel,

Where he will be in attendance daily to administer to the wants of all those who may require his services.

It is impossible here to mention all the diseases with which he is familiar; some, perhaps, will not be out of place. The most formidable, the most destructive to mankind is Self-Abuse. The brain being the seat of the disease, the whole system suffers in consequence. I will here enumerate some of the symptoms, so that those afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their complaints and seek advice in time, thereby saving themselves a world of suffering:

Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs and back, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling of the Limbs, Headache and an aversion to Genial Society, especially that of Females.

There are a great many more, but these are sufficient, and should you be suffering from any of them, call on DR. TOZER, and he will cure you in a short time, without any interruption in your business—or state your case by letter, and there will be no occasion for your calling at the office.

STRICTURE OF THE URETHRA

Is another formidable enemy to health. Send for one of my circulars on that disease, and inform yourselves of its terrible results. The worst cases cured in a few days.

DR. TOZER has for the last forty years given his entire attention to the TREATMENT AND CURE of SPECIAL COMPLAINTS, and will GUARANTEE a cure in all cases. His remedies are Purely Vegetable, and positive in their action.

His remedies for all FEMALE COMPLAINTS have been tried in this City and State for the last fifteen years, with the greatest success.

His FEMALE PILLS are unrivaled in the cure of suppression of the monthly sickness. Price, $5 per box—to be had at the office only. Sent by mail or express on receipt of price.

☞ All letters strictly confidential. Address, through mail or address, has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles iis dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine, WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT Cures are Always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorrhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, or NO PAY REQUIRED, at the Private Medical Institute,

No. 536 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal.

Seminal Weakness or Spermatorrhœa.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization, should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptons of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to this evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and beg the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.

MEDICAL.

FRENCH MEDICAL OFFICE.

DR. JULIEN PERRAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University Queen's College, and Physician of the St. John Baptiste Society of San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT has pleasure to inform patients, and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Armory Hall Building, North-East corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco. Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor, up stairs, entrance either Montgomery or Sacramento streets.

DR. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long after-ward; patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptons: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Uretha on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writign or the society of friends, etc, The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo, and that Sight and Hearing are Weakened and sleep disturbed by dreams, melancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings, coughs and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pain, bness of the body. Some of the most common symptons are pimples in the face and aching in different parts of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to Dr. PERRAULT, either in person or by letter as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotence in six to eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Bubo Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

DR. PERRAULT'S diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under treatment we fulfil our promises. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Low charges and quick cures. Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor, with the assurance of relief.

Female Monthly Pills.

DR. PERRAULT is the only agent in California for DR. BIOT'S Female Monthly Pills. Their immense sale has established their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other remedy for suppressions and irregularities, and other obstructions in females. On the receipt of five dollars, these Pills will be sent by mail or express to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Persons at a distance can be cured at home, by addressing a letter to Dr. PERRAULT, corner of Sacramento and Montgomery streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or Box 973, P. O., San Francisco, stating the case as minutely as possible general habits of living, occupation, etc., etc.

Grover & Baker's
ELASTIC STITCH
FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES,
Are the best in Use,
FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

They are more simple and durable easier kept in order, make a stronger and more elastic stitch, a firmer and more beautiful seam than any other. They sew all fabrics from two common spools, require no re-winding of thread, fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation, and though every fifth stitch is cut the seam will not rip.

They Stitch, Hem, Fell, Cord, Bind, Tuck, Quilt, Gather, Braid, and Embroider. No other machine Embroiders, as well as Sews perfectly.
